

“The Notes of an Ambulance physician” by A.G.Dreytser - a Popular Documentary Work about the Great Patriotic War

E.D. DREYTSER., SECHENOV UNIVERSITY, MOSCOW, RUSSIA

SCIENTIFIC ADVISER: PH.D. E.L. PANOVA, RUDN UNIVERSITY, MOSCOW, RUSSIA

THE AIMS

- To clarify the facts of A.G. Dreytser's biography
- To find connection between his literary and scientific work

THE SOURCES AND ARCHIVES

- the texts of «The Notes of an Ambulance physician»
- Ph.D. dissertation “The Material on the Question of Sudden Death: According to the Data of Morgues, Moscow City Emergency Stations and the Department of Clinical Examination of the Central Polyclinic of the People's Commissariat for Health of the USSR” by A.G.Dreytser
- the State Archive of the Russian Federation
- the Central State Archive of the City of Moscow
- the Russian State Archive of Literature and Art
- the personal archive of the Dreytser family

THE FOTO OF A.G. DREYTSER, 1960-8

- was born in 1890 and died in 1970.
- studied medicine at Strausbourg University and in IMU
- In the 1930-s A.G.Dreytser worked in Moscow at a polyclinic. Among his patients were many prominent figures of science and culture.

THE NOTES

“The Notes of an Ambulance physician” is a collection of documentary essays dedicated to the life of Moscow and Muscovites during the Great Patriotic War seen by a doctor. A.G. Dreytser was on duty at the Ambulance Station at the Sklifosovsky Institute several times a month, combining those shifts with his work at a polyclinic, trying to compensate for his dismissal from the front due to his age.

PH.D. DISSERTATION

A.G. Dreytser analyzed in his Ph.D. dissertation how the human body is responding to the immense stresses of wartime.

CONCLUSION AND RESULTS

Our research discovered some unknown facts of Dreytser's life and defined the connections between his literary and scientific work. A.G. Dreytser used in his Ph.D. dissertation the data, which was collected during the period described in the Notes.